Hold on to that, which benefits you in body, mind and spirit.

Associate with one another in brotherly love;

Valuing, leading one another;

Do not be sluggish in work;

Be zealous in spirit;

Be a slave to the Lord;

Rejoice in anticipation while enduring affliction;

Continually steadfast in prayer;

Partner to the necessity of the holy;

Go out of your way to love strangers.

*Consecrate with solemn prayers them, which persecute you:
consecrate with solemn prayers, and do not imprecate evil in thought or word.*

Be glad with them that are happy, and grief with them that are sad.

Be of Christ's understanding towards one another.

Think not highly of your own self, but be humble to men who are poor worldly, mentally or spiritually.

Be not separated in your own self.

(keep fellowship with your brothers and sisters in the Lord)

Render to no man bad nature for bad nature.

Perceive before hand, things which are good in the sight of all men.

If it be possible, as much as it is by you (while not compromising your faith), live peaceably with all men.

*Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but give place unto wrath: for it is written,
Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord.*

*Therefore if your enemy is hunger, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him to drink:
for in doing so you will heap burning coals of fire on his head.*

Be not conquered by bad nature, but conquer bad nature with good.
